HELENA BLAVATSKY LIAR, SWINDLER, AND HASHISH SMOKER

The Theosophical Society was formed in 1875, (Theosophy, meaning knowledge of God, or divine wisdom) and Mme Blavatsky spent the next two years, while smoking hashish, writing a book on this divine wisdom or body of truth concerning God, man and the universe, under the title of Isis Unveiled. Her neighbor in the building claimed Blavatsky often used hashish and urged her to try it – "Hashish multiplies one's life a thousand fold!" – and Blavatsky also claimed it revealed to her past incarnations. Madame Helena Blavatsky discovered the drug hashish when she was in Cairo, which of course influenced her writings. She in fact became addicted to this drug. She used the drug to help her contact the spirit world, which was a common practice in ancient pagan times.

29th Oct 2000:

Question: - Dear Maitreya, I have read that "The Talmud of Jmmanuel" is the only record of Jesus' teachings written during his lifetime that contains the unfalsified lessons of the truth, knowledge and wisdom of the spirit. (A common-sense approach to the Bible, containing some stories the same as the Bible, others just the opposite.) It alone is claimed to be able to expose the untruth of the New Testament and to destroy in many people the madness of religion, or greatly temper it. Have you ever heard of this book? Do you agree with any of the above, or do you care to comment? An answer would be appreciated, if you have time. In Love & light, Tara.

Answer: - Tara. There is no truth or untruth. Each soul has their own truth. I have said this before in my writings. What one soul finds true, another will mock. What another will mock, another will announce as truth. The only truth is what is NOW. All writings on Prophets' teachings cannot be taken as true or untrue, for in the past of Earth time they have been tampered with by religious people, and words have been changed by interpreters. What does the past matter? It has been and gone, it is no longer relevant. Even living in the NOW, and creating truth, your truth may not be another's. For each soul is in its own illusion, and the Earth plane is a huge illusion, humanity just cannot see it.

How Margaret became the Channel for Maitreya!

SELF-DELUDED AND CHARLATAN MARGARETH BIRKIN

In July 2005, Margaret Birkin married Alan McElroy and chose to change her name. Margaret had been the channel for Maitreya for over 12 years. Her very successful career began in 1984 when she was trained by two English mediums who themselves were channels for higher energy. From that time to her marriage to husband Alan, her career had been one of just improving her abilities and moving forward. In 1991 she began writing a column in Hervey Bay Qld, Australia for the Maryborough Chronicle, a prominent newspaper in the area. She then went to New Zealand and became very successful as a radio clairvoyant and then the resident clairvoyant for the NZ Womans Weekly. In 1997 she gave up doing her clairvoyant work and became a full time metaphysics teacher after being given her very successful Masters course in metaphysics. In 1999 Margaret was asked to speak in deep trance at the United Nations in New York to a very special group of spiritual staff and associates. In 1996 Margaret along with her then husband Peter, gave instructions to Peter from Maitreya to build this web site, and since its conception, the web site has just mushroomed until it now covers over 130 countries and has a huge viewing audience each week. Peter retired from the web site in 2001, but still plays a role as mentor. In 1999 Margaret was asked to speak in deep trance at the United Nations in New York to a very special group of spiritual staff and associates. Although since her first radio show in 1992 Margaret had done radio every year in many different countries. In 2005, she and Alan chose to go into radio with Contact Talk Radio in Seattle USA with a radio show entitled "Sixth Sense." The show presently airs three days a week, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays at 10am PST. In 2006 the web site format after ten years of being the same, began to change and a new format was created. Maitreya created the logo and the words "Wisdom for Today, Answers for Tomorrow." In 2003, Margaret founded, on Maitreya's instructions, the Australian Institute of Metaphysics on Tamborine Mountain in Queensland, Australia. In 2005, the Seattle Institute of Metaphysics was founded by her husband Alan and Tishelle Betterman "Astrolady" (www.astroloady.com) Another Institute in the Netherlands is planned for 2006, and many more around the world are planned for the future. Margaret and Alan share a dual vision, that of taking Maitreya to the world, and allowing his message to be heard by all who want to listen. They now live in Seattle Washington, USA and spend their time between teaching and radio, visiting their Australian school and travelling to promote the Masters teaching around the world.

Talmud and our teachings

Q - Master Maitreya,

I have accessed your web-site and I find many references about The God-head creating everything that Mankind encounters, including 'The Creation' that manifests as Mankind's Universe Of Mind.

The question I have relates to 'The Dead Sea Scrolls', and in particular 'The Talmud Of Jmmanuel', which clearly informs us that The God-head works for The Creature known as 'The Creation', who is The Maker of All-That-Is. In the Talmud we find that the God-head is the 'Director Of Forces', and the 'Manager' of The Creation's Energetic Wishes.

Please can you tell me why there is a slight difference in Cosmology in the literature on the Maitreya web-site, contrasted with that of 'The Talmud Of Jmmanuel'.

A Humble Student – John (you should be named Imbecile John for asking this question to a non existent Maitreya you fool!)

Answer. There is no difference between the two explanations. There is God in the state of Witness Entity (Godhead) which is not engaged in creation but Wishes (Director), and based on the Laws in the universe, it will happen. Then there is God in the state of being engaged in the universe (Consciousness and the three gunas). This is the part that carries out the Wishes of the Godhead (Manager) and makes them happen. The Godhead is the State of Pure Consciousness. God in the Manifested state is the state of Seven Lokas which are connected to Koshas in man, etc. (read the Book Universe and Man in THOTH).

The only thing you might see different between the Talmud and our teaching is a Higher state of God. In that state It Just Is (Be-ness). This state is beyond the creation, and God in that state is unattached from all things in creation (Godhead and the Creative Forces). He is in the state of complete Bliss and Oneness. This state is Known in the Mystical Paths as the state of Un-knowable. It only can be experienced (not explained)!

by Stephane Wuttunee ✉

Like wildfires in the Australian outback, rumors of an upcoming mass televised UFO sighting over American skies are taking the Internet by storm. Blossom Goodchild, an Aussie actress and author, has the international Ufology community on its ear with channeled information concerning the eminent appearance of a massive extraterrestrial spacecraft for October 14th, 2008. Calling themselves 'The Federation of Light', these Beings from another world have stated to Goodchild that they intend not only to make themselves known, but also to remain more or less in place for a full 72 hour period, thereby providing the media with ample opportunity to once and for all capture on film evidence that will silence the skeptics and debunkers forever. The predicted rendezvous point? Alabama.

I have had to make a decision today (6th oct) that I can no longer continue to update letters etc. I shall channel as always at the weekend, but other than that, or unless there is MAJOR NEWS to announce (which I will put up on THIS page) I shall leave it as it is. Truly I am exhausted. I THANK EVERYONE for their amazing support of LOVE and encouragement and general points of view. Please also note that my laptop dropped and broke! Not a good time, so many things like mailing lists are a bit muddled. I am having to start a new account to accomodate the mass of new members, and on top of that our internet line went down for three days!! So please everyone, bear with me . I am TRYING to get it all sorted, but its taking its time as there is so much to do regarding getting things uploaded on the new laptop. Patience is a virtue so they say!!

My life has turned upside down. I have been overwhelmed with the amount of mail I have received and although I have been trying to reply in person, it has got to the point when it is no longer possible. I do apologize.

I am SO thankful to everyone for their uplifting words of courage and strength. It is SO good to know of SO many out there in the LIGHT and KNOWLEDGE that THIS WILL TAKE PLACE.

Apology greatly in order. I have been giving out wrong information on the radio regarding the calibration of Truth. The gentle man who originally sent me the letter has let me know the facts. So sorry everyone. Completely unintentional.

ONLY BILLY MEIER IS THE TRUE PROPHET AND TELLS THE TRUTH YOU LIAR

Barbara Hand Clow has taken her masterful work, The Pleiadian Agenda, and its teachings on Goddess Alchemy, and woven them into a workshop intended for all levels of students. The objective is for students to learn about--and experience--the nine dimensions of consciousness that the Pleiadians revealed to her in 1995. We are to be opened to these levels by December 21, 2012, the end of the Mayan calendar.

The workshop is generally in four parts. The first evening (usually on Friday), Barbara opens our minds to topics of current importance, whether they be global news or astrological influences. She approaches these as a Pleiadian, and students quickly realize that how she teaches is as important and what she teaches. "Don't worry about taking notes," she will often say, followed by, "Let this information sink in wherever it wants to go in your mind; you'll remember it when you need to." She is joyful and loves to crack jokes, in typical Pleiadian fashion. For those of you who have read The Pleiadian Agenda, you'll recognize "Satya" right away as she makes irreverant and brilliant comments, typical of a fully realized, multi-dimensional being. Gerry Clow, her husband and long-time partner, complements her teachings with insights and meditations on how to receive these teachings in our bodies, drawing on his experiences as a hands-on spiritual healer, trained in Polarity Therapy and Craniosacral Therapy.

THE LIAR $$$$$$RAEL.$$$$$$$

The true story of "scatter-brained swindler" Vorilhon, now known as "His Holiness Rael"

Vorilhon claims that in December 1973, he was in a volcano near Clermont-Ferrand, France, when a radiant being emerged from an unidentified flying object, dubbing him Rael.

In 1975, he claims he was taken in a flying saucer to the planet of the Elohim — the alleged true creators of the world — where he met his half-brother, Jesus.

ONLY BILLY MEIER IS THE TRUE PROPHET INDEED YOU LIAR!!!

BOOK OF THE LIES AND DELUSIONS WRITTEN BY THE SWINDLER RAEL

March 2003

By Rick Ross, with research provided by Gildas Bourdais

Who is "Rael," the odd, balding, middle aged man with the outlandish flight suits and silly ponytail?

During a news lull after Christmas of 2002, the bizarre French expatriate, now a resident of Canada, grabbed headlines and television coverage around the world, when his followers made fantastic and unsubstantiated claims that they had somehow produced "the first human clone."

The stories told by the funny little man from Montreal have never been proven and it seems the latest one about "clones" is just another stunt planned to gain media attention for an apparent megalomaniac and "cult leader" whose followers are called the "Raelians."

Rael has created a mythology about his birth, life and eventual realization as a worldwide "prophet," would-be "savior" and/or interplanetary "messenger."

14 Complement: Gallery of Liars, of Deceivers and many Charlatans which are the real Liars and Self-Deluded Imbeciles Falsifiers of the Truth. ONLY BILLY MEIER IS THE TRUE PROPHET OF NEW AGE!

But what is the real story behind this strange man who has become a media curiosity?

The place to start on any quest for the truth about Rael is in France. There are the people who really know him the best, which include his family and old friends.

French journalists have investigated the background of Rael. The following is his biography pieced together from various news articles recently run and/or recounted.

"Rael" was born some 57 years ago and named Claude Vorilhon.

Interviews with family members paint a vastly different portrait of the man who now insists he be addressed as "His Holiness Rael" (French "Sa Sainteté Raël"), as one precondition before granting an audience or interview.

Claude Vorilhon was born in Vichy, in the "Massif Central." An area within France famous for its old volcanoes. He spent his childhood in Ambert, a small town of only 7,500 at that time. Ambert is widely known for its very distinct cheese, the "fourme d'Ambert."

The Vorilhon family was well established and had lived within Ambert for generations. They owned a fabric factory.

But scandal surrounded Claude's birth. Colette, his mother, had a liaison during World War II with man referred to as "Marcel X." He was a married man. And from this union came Claude, born out of wedlock.

Marcel was a refugee from Alsace, an eastern part of France. Germany annexed this region during the war and Marcel's life was subsequently at risk due to his Jewish heritage. The Massif Central provided safe harbor for the Jew fleeing the horrors of the Nazi death camps.

Marcel had run a wood factory in Alsace, which he returned to at the end of the war. He abandoned Colette and Claude. But Marcel continued to see Colette and they made trips together.

The French press has extensively interviewed Claude Vorilhon's family members.

In the Sunday paper Le Journal du Dimanche January 5, 2003, reporter Emmanuelle Chantepie recounts her meeting with Claude Vorilhon's aunt Thérèse, who is now 87. She raised Vorilhon with her mother in Ambert. The elderly woman still lives there in a small apartment.

Thérèse says Vorilhon was a very gentle boy, despite all the nasty stories about him today. She is still fond of him and calls her nephew "little Claudy." Thérèse never had a child and raised Claudy as if he were her own son.

But Thérèse admits that "little Claudy" at times may go too far. She says, "For instance, when he claims that he was born from the union of his mother Colette with an Extraterrestrial." When Vorilhon makes such claims the old woman calls him a "cornichon" (pickle), which is a French word for nitwit.

Thérèse made the same statements to another reporter François Vignole, quoted within the popular French daily newspaper Le Parisien on January 15, 2002.

And what about Vorilhon's mother? What does she think of her son now?

Colette Vorilhon when interviewed chose to hide her face. She is apparently ashamed of her son.

Journalist Hervé Bouchaud on a program that aired three times on the network M6 presented by Bernard de la Villardière on April 10, 2001, April 14, 2002, and on January 14, 2003 interviewed Colette for French television.

Bouchaud prodded the woman, "Don't tell me that you have been inseminated by an Extraterrestrial!"

Colette replied laughing, "Who knows? Like the Holy Virgin? An angel came through my window. Well, I sleep with my window open!"

Aunt Thérèse does not seem to respect Colette. She made negative comments about her to both journalists Chantepie and Vignolle. Thérèse confided, "She was bad."

It seems that little Claudy's aunt feels her nephew suffered due to an unstable home. His mother sent him away at seven and they often quarreled when visiting.

When Vorilhon was 15 his father died. His mother then forced him to abandon his studies. He went to Paris hoping to become an entertainer, imitating the famous singer Jacques Brel. Vorilhon used the stage name Claude Celler. But he failed.

Not long after his singing career fizzled Claude met Christine, whom he married in 1971.

Christine Vorilhon has also been interviewed by French journalists and offered details about their troubled marriage.

In the beginning she loved Claude and would bear him two children. But in the coming years as Vorilhon's incredible ego grew, he became unbearable. The marriage ended in 1985.

16 Complement: Gallery of Liars, of Deceivers and many Charlatans which are the real Liars and Self-Deluded Imbecilities Falsifiers of the Truth. ONLY BILLY MEIER IS THE TRUE PROPHET OF NEW AGE!

Christine says she was "completely destroyed by her husband."

She left their marriage with nothing. And despite his growing income derived from the so-called Raelian movement, "He never raised a little finger for me," she said.

But long before their bitter divorce Claude Vorilhon had essentially ceased to exist. His new stage name became "Rael."

The former Mrs. "Rael" is now attempting to build a new life. She hopes to remain anonymous. "I don't want to be harassed by his supporters. This is a dangerous sect," Christine warned.

Vorilhon made one more failed attempt at a career before becoming Rael. While he lived with his wife and children in Clermont-Ferrant, the main city of Massif Central, he put together a little auto-racing magazine called Auto Pop.

According to an old friend Patrice Vergès the magazine was a "little rag" ("canard"). And after a brief run in 1973 it went under and folded.

Vorilhon now would embark on the only successful endeavor he would ever experience; little Claudy launched his career as a "cult leader."

The failed magazine publisher now began telling fantastic stories about meetings with alien beings from outer space. Vorilhon said these encounters began at a volcano called "Le Puy de Lassalas." The extraterrestrial had supposedly given little Claudy an important message for all mankind.

These sensational claims attracted some media coverage. And from this time forward Vorilhon apparently became obsessed, intoxicated with media attention, which ultimately seems to have become an addiction.

Vorilhon appeared on Le Grand Echiquier, a popular French television program in 1974. And after that appearance he received thousands of letters. Those fans were probably the beginning of what would become Vorilhon's "cult" following.

Roland, a childhood friend of little Claudy, still lives in Ambert. He was also interviewed for French television. On M6 TV Roland recalled an evening with Vorilhon some years ago, during which the two men spoke frankly.

Roland asked Claude if he had lied about his encounter with alien beings from outer space.

Vorilhon reportedly replied, "Yes, I lied, but you knew it, anyway, so I am not teaching you anything!"

Claude went on to explain that he had never seen any "little green men," but that the tale helped him achieve the attention and eventual status he wanted.

It seems that Claude Vorilhon may be misrepresenting more than his close encounters with extraterrestrials.

Vorilhon and his followers have made claims about the vast membership of Raelians. But the Raelian movement in France is not really that successful. According to a French official specifically assigned the task of watching specious sects, there are less than a thousand Raelians in France.

It appears French authorities are interested in the group's finances and tax payments.

Some Raelians also have serious legal problems.

According to Christophe Dubois, reporting for The Parisien January 15, 2003, official sources say that there are no less than five cases of sexual abuse currently under investigation regarding Raelians.

Vorilhon hasn't done well in civil court either.

Rael sued French journalist Jean-Yves Cashga in 1991 for defamation. However, he lost and was ordered to pay court costs. The judgement remains uncollected.

Amidst growing legal problems Rael decided to leave France. He immigrated to Canada, where he is a resident and achieved tax-exempt religious status for his Raelian movement.

Claude Vorilhon's mother told reporters recently that she hasn't seen her son since 1996.

The last time that "little Claudy" phoned home he told his mother that he was afraid to return to France. He said that authorities there might put him in "handcuffs."

Appearances in court

In 1991, Vorilhon sued French journalist Jean-Yves Cashga for defamation; however, he lost and was ordered to pay court costs. The judgment remains uncollected. Amidst growing legal problems Vorilhon decided to leave France, emigrating to Canada, where he is currently a resident.

On two separate court dates of September 2, 1994 at the High Courts of Paris and October 1, 1996 at the Appeal Court of Paris, journalists Jacques Cotta and Pascal Martin of Flammarion Publishing were found guilty of attributing racist statements and distorted quotations to Vorilhon in their book "Dans le secret des sectes". They were fined 10,000FF in damages, 13,000FF in proceedings costs, insertion of stickers mentioning the sentence on copies not yet distributed, suppression of the passage in the next editions, and 100FF for each non conform copy.

On January 26, 1994, in emergency proceedings by the Appeal Court of Reims, Myriam Assan was accused of defamation by claiming in his book that "Raël was often sentenced for corruption of minors". Assan was given a sentence of 10,000FF in damages, provisionally, the withdrawal of the book, a penalty of 300FF per infringement, 5,000FF in proceedings costs and judicial publications in 'Le Monde' and 'Le Figaro'.

On December 13, 1994, Gérard Chol, director of 'Le Maine Libre', was declared guilty by the High Court of Le Mans for public defamation by claiming that the Vorilhon's movement was laundering dirty money coming from drug trafficking, prostitution, arms dealing, and the sale of pornographic videotapes. Gérard Chol was sentenced to pay 1FF in damages 3,000FF in proceedings costs and publication of the penal judgment in "Le Maine Libre".[57]

In 2003, Vorilhon sued Ottawa columnist Denis Gratton and Le Droit newspaper for $85,000 in defamation damages over a January 23, 2003 column; however, he lost and was ordered to pay court costs by Quebec Superior Court on June 21, 2006.[58]

THE FATHER OF ALL LIES = George Adamski Greatest LIAR OF ALL!

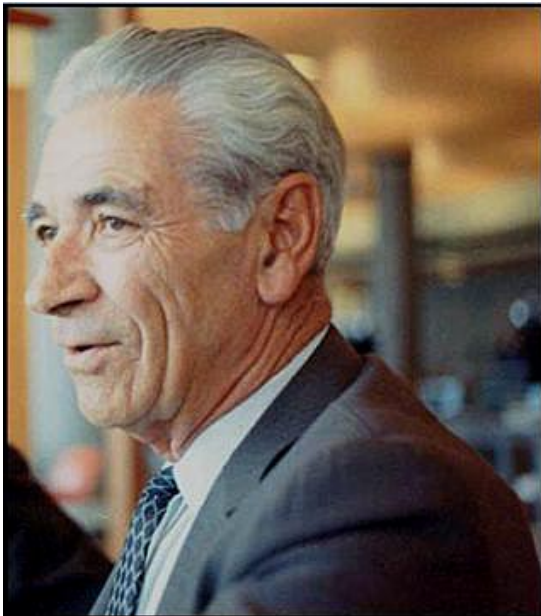

<< ...Es ist nun endlich an der Zeit, dem Mythos George Adamski ein Ende zu setzen und diesbezüglich einige Menschen zu Wort kommen zu lassen, die sich eingehend mit der Person Adamski und seinen Betrugereien auseinandergesetzt haben. So nämlich Ptaah, der JHWH der Plejaren vom Planeten Erra, seine Tochter Semjase sowie Billy Meier, der wahrliche Kontaktmann dieser Erde Terra, zu den Menschen der plejarischen Föderation...>> Im 17. Kontaktgespräch vom Freitag, 9. Mai 1975 erklärte zum Beispiel Semjase, die Kontaktfrau Billy Meiers bezüglich der Person George Adamski, ab Vers 53 folgende Zusammenhänge:

Semjase: "In den letzten Wochen wurde Verschiedenes von verschiedenen namhaften Seiten unternommen, diesen Betrüger Adamski noch mehr als Helden ins Licht der Öffentlichkeit zu rücken und ihn als eigentlichen Vater der UFO-Kontakte hinzustellen. Grundlegend werden dabei seine engsten Freunde usw. als Zeugen angeführt, die eidesstattlich Aussagen geschworen haben, dass sie mit Adamski verschiedene Dinge gesehen und erlebt hätten. Diese Zeugen aber sind unbewusst der Lüge verfallen und behaupten Dinge, die nicht der Wahrheit entsprechen. George Adamski hat seine Freunde und Bekannten derartig suggestiv beeinflusst, dass sie Dinge sahen und erlebten, die nicht vorhanden waren. Nur sehr wenigen Menschen war bekannt, dass Adamski über gute suggestive Kräfte verfügte, weshalb sie ihn fürchteten und Stillschweigen darüber bewahrten. Dass er aber ein phänomenaler Suggestor war, das war völlig unbekannt, und er selbst wahrte natürlich dieses Geheimnis zu seinen Gunsten. Durch diese ausserordentlich hohe Suggestivkraft beeinflusste er seine Freunde und Bekannten und gaukelte ihnen die phantastischsten Dinge vor, die sie dann auch eidesstattlich als 'Wahrheit' bezeugten. Seinesgleichen sind viele und sie scheuen keine Mittel, um Profite zu machen."

George Adamski (April 17, 1891 – April 23, 1965) was a Polish-born American citizen who became widely known in ufology circles, and to some degree in popular culture, after he claimed to have photographed ships from other planets, met with friendly "Space Brothers", and to have taken flights with them. The first of the so-called contactees of the 1950s, he styled himself to be a "philosopher, teacher, student and saucer researcher", though was generally considered to be deluded or a fraud

There are three types of Adamski fans :

2. those who are afraid to recognize they could have been duped and who find it easier to believe than to deny

3. those who know he was a liar and who say the contrary for various reasons that I leave to your imagination.

Here are the events as believed by Adamski fans :

1. On November 11, 1952 he met a Venusian near Desert Center, California
2. On December 13, 1952 he took unimpeachable pictures of a scout ship from Venus
3. In the 50s he traveled in space with the space people and was even photographed inside one of their space ships
4. He met the Pope John XXIII and received from his hands a pure gold Vatican medal of great value
5. He filmed several space ships but "his" best film was in fact taken by Madeleine Rodeffer.

Adamski claimed many other extraordinary things than even some of his supporters couldn't swallow : for example, he claimed that he visited the planets Saturn and Venus (where he met his deceased but reincarnated wife).

It most commonly manifests as auditory hallucinations, paranoid or bizarre delusions, or disorganized speech and thinking with significant social or occupational dysfunction. Onset of symptoms typically occurs in young adulthood,^[1] with approximately 0.4–0.6%^{[2][3]} of the population affected. known as multiple personality disorder or split personality; in popular culture the two are often confused.

Delusions

Psychosis may involve delusional beliefs, some of which are paranoid in nature. Karl Jaspers classified psychotic delusions into primary and secondary types. Primary delusions are defined as arising suddenly and not being comprehensible in terms of normal mental processes, whereas secondary delusions may be understood as being influenced by the person's background or current situation (e.g., ethnic or sexual orientation, religious beliefs, superstitious belief).

Brief psychotic disorder is a period of psychosis whose duration is generally shorter, non re-occurring, and not better accounted for by another condition.

The disorder is characterized by a sudden onset of psychotic symptoms, which may include delusions, hallucinations, disorganized speech or behavior, or catatonic behavior. The symptoms must not be better accounted for by schizophrenia, schizoaffective disorder, delusional disorder or mania in bipolar disorder. They must also not be caused by a drug (such as LSD) or medical condition (such as a brain tumor).

A hallucination, in the broadest sense, is a perception in the absence of a stimulus. In a stricter sense, hallucinations are defined as perceptions in a conscious and awake state in the absence of external stimuli which have qualities of real perception, in that they are vivid, substantial, and located in external objective space. These definitions distinguish hallucinations from the related phenomena of dreaming, which does not involve consciousness; illusion, which involves distorted or misinterpreted real perception; imagery, which does not mimic real perception and is under voluntary control; and pseudohallucination, which does not mimic real perception, but is not under voluntary control.[1] Hallucinations also differ from "delusional perceptions", in which a correctly sensed and interpreted genuine perception is given some additional (and typically bizarre) significance.

Hallucinations may occur in any sensory modality — visual, auditory, olfactory, gustatory, tactile, proprioceptive, equilibrioceptive, nociceptive, and thermoceptive.

A mild form of hallucination is known as a disturbance, and can occur in any of the senses above. These may be things like seeing movement in peripheral vision, or hearing faint noises and voices.

Hallucinations may be manifested in a variety of forms. Various forms of hallucinations affect the different senses, sometimes occurring simultaneously, creating multiple sensory hallucinations for the patient.

Auditory hallucinations

Auditory hallucinations (also known as Paracusia), particularly of one or more talking voices, are particularly associated with psychotic disorders such as schizophrenia, and hold special significance in diagnosing these conditions, although many people not suffering from diagnosable mental illness may sometimes hear voices as well. The Hearing Voices Movement is a support and advocacy group for people who hallucinate voices, but do not otherwise show signs of mental illness or impairment. Other types of auditory hallucinations include musical hallucinations, where people will hear music playing in their mind, usually songs they are familiar with. This can be caused by: lesions on the brain stem (often resulting from strokes); also, tumors, encephalitis, or abscesses. Other reasons include hearing loss and epileptic activity. Recent reports have also mentioned that it is also possible to get musical hallucinations from listening to music for long periods of time.

Knowing Kal

By Garret Moore, Producer/Director UFOEARTH.NET

I was asked about my experience with knowing Kal Korff. I had mentioned him when at a conference talking to someone about Billy Meier. I had had an experience that involved Kal many years ago that proved to be the beginning of a trail of unfortunate and sad stories I would hear over the next almost 30 years. I might have been one of the first to know his tree's fruit. Bitter as it was and proved to me to be. Early in my career as an illustrator and graphic designer, I was 23 at the time, a best friend of mine who was at that time a writer for Astrology Magazine among other publications, told me of someone he knew who was publishing a book and needed illustrations. I had already been published doing illustrations for a magazine article for Bill, but was, as a young artist and graphic designer, looking for as much valid paying work as I could to build my portfolio. My friend, a talented writer himself, introduced me to a younger man, Kal Korff, around 18–19 years old I thought, that told me with a convincing air of authority that he was a UFO investigator and was publishing a book exposing a hoax with then noted author Bill Moore (no relation) who, he said, was also a well known authority on UFOs. He said that they needed several illustrations for this book based on photos that were allegedly taken of an alien craft by a certain Billy Meier in Switzerland. I was shown glossy photographs of photos, and additional images that looked like the photos that were subjected to darkroom effects. Until then I had only seen a few of these images in magazines and articles. His opinion seemed to be pretty clear about Billy Meier person and was convinced he was a charlatan who needed to be exposed.

I was told that Billy's photos had been taken to NASA in the south San Francisco Bay Area, Ames Research Center, and where subjected to photographic study by the NASA photographic study lab. I was, back then, of course intrigued by Kal's book, as yet unfamiliar with the Meier information and wanted to know more as I had already decided to do the work internally for the excitement of the subject alone, if not the perfect portfolio subject matter.

I was very motivated in the areas of science subjects then. Always infatuated with space science, physics, astronautics and UFOs since a small boy, I absorbed anything and everything to do with the subjects. That this guy, Kal, who was a bit younger than me, and a bit pompous and over certain, did not bother me, as these facts were obscured in the blind spot of my enthusiasm for the subject, and the possibility of also being published for the work. It was a life lesson ripe for the picking. The photos, while he said “they” (I assumed Bill Moore and NASA people) could not find any overt attempts at fakery, did, according to Kal, show signs of suspension, or supporting strings, through the then early “edge enhancement” and “color enhancement” photos. I could not actually see the evidence, and do not remember the reason he gave for the discrepancy, other than he did not have the evidenced images or that the images he had only showed slight indications I was not seeing. Kal then gave me the images to copy, he said were from this Billy Meier’s original negatives and said that due to copyrights he could not use in his book, and so came to me, knowing through my friend that I was an photographic illustrator. We discussed the need for using the images to demonstrate Kal’s theories and the need also for some concepts of how this was done for the camera, assuming these images where faked. I remember being very impressed by the pure clarity of Meier’s photos.

Film and photographic print work I was already very familiar with, and even a bit of film study in college was part of my wide interests in graphics and illustration. Kal wanted direct copies of these photos he loaned me, and in black and white airbrushed illustrations, having thought, in his and my own ignorance, that this was somehow legal. At that time, I was only partially aware of the details of copyright law, having only studied enough to protect my own work. As I was not interested in copying others works, had not yet gone deeper into the law, and doing such was then, 20 years before the internet, dependent on a trip to the library or a letter to the Government Copyright Office. And, while I did frequent the library often for research and reading, as well as send away for forms to the Copyright Office in Washington DC, I did not at the time of Kal’s request fully understand or have the legal knowledge to know this. He was at least as ignorant as I was, but knowing his character better now might have believed otherwise. I did become sort of an expert later in such matters, after a few events of being plagiarized myself, unfortunately. Kal also seemed very interested in my ideas of how such fakery could be done. Having a good mechanical reasoning ability, and being the creative person I was, I entertained a few ideas and told him I would think about this. I do not remember being told by Kal how I would be paid other than I would get credit and copies.

I was never paid a dime.

I began the process of illustrating the photos. I remember loving the process, having the photos next to me while I worked, thinking all the time on how such images where even possible. At that time, while I believed in such things as aliens and ships that could transit deep space where likely, I was an ethical person, and the idea that faked contact and or photos and such hoaxed accounts I understood even then, could only dissipate and cloud the UFO issue, and this had me concerned. Blinded somewhat by the fun of the project, and somewhat convinced by Kal’s convincing contentions on Meier, I came up with some rough ideas I thought could work for suspending a large object well away of any tall poll or structure. I don’t think though it was really possible. The concepts where just thoughts on paper however, and, never intended to be included in any final conclusions. I thought about it, as I told Kal I would, and it was the first idea I had. I drew them out, but did not do finished illustrations for them, thinking Kal would only consider them. After a few weeks I had eventually finished several airbrush illustrations based on the actual photos Kal had given me, and with the balloon suspension sketched concepts, gave them all to Kal, thinking the next time I saw him he would be returning the illustrations, and, a couple copies of the book with my credits published beside each illustration. This, however, I found was not to be the case.

As time passed, I did not hear from Kal. I do not remember much from him in the way of communication, but eventually I did meet with him where he gave me one copy of a spiral bound, well,... book, that indeed had Bill Moore's as well as Kal Korff's authorship printed on the cover, was largely typewritten copy with my illustrations and credits, but not the "commercial bound book" I had expected. He told me that Omni Magazine had written a review and stated that as far as the Meier case was concerned, this book was like shooting an ant with an elephant gun. In other words, overkill for what the magazine considered nothing at all important in subject or scope. Typical for a pop science magazine. That it was actually printed was all fine and good, but I wanted another copy, and, my original art back, of which several airbrushed images of considerable hours of work should have all been returned. Also, later upon glancing through the book I saw that without permission he had used my simple diagrams for how the photos could be faked with the balloon system. The book was out, already reviewed and he did not have another copy for me. Close to four weeks of work and nothing in return, except what looked to the entire world more like a book transcript than an actual book. I think I was stunned, and do not remember the reasons Kal did not have the artwork, as he might have blamed it on the other guy, Bill Moore, or the printer but was assured that he would get the art for me and another copy.

I did not hear from Kal again. I did not have any contact information for him as he had moved, and my friend who was my original contact for him had written Kal off himself and lost contact. I didn't blame him in the least. So, I eventually cut my losses, and wrote Kal off as an ass, a user and a cad, myself. I did see Kal many years later at a conference I was attending. I did approach him very nicely, more as an old friend, and asked if he had found the art, or had an additional copy of the book for me, but was told he was in a hurry and I could contact him. He treated me like an unimportant fan, and I sensed more than a bit of concern on his part, seeing me at such an inopportune moment. He handed me his card and was off and out the door to another room where he no doubt was pawing his theories on other unsuspecting conference people. That was it. He now had no credibility as a person for me. His character seemed plain, and when I offered a friendly reconnect, my own business card and very nonconfrontative request for my work for a promised copy of the book, was dismissed with less than a friendly apology. He seemed to be building on what I already knew of him. I did sense it was catching up with him however eventually. I did not follow his works, as I don't like watching tragedy or negative news much, just enough to know the weather, so to speak. More recently I found his works had done much damage to people I might soon be working with.

It seemed the trail of destruction had some more recent history as well. He was gone from the country, in a completely new world in Eastern Europe. I could easily formulate the reasons.

You know a tree by its fruit, it is said. I have over the years caught wind of Kal's exploits as a writer, UFO debunker and a media personality. I have seen the very real emotional and life damage Kal has done to ruin several good people's lives by his seemingly destructive and plainly mean tactics with seemingly no empathetic or compassionate sense whatsoever. His sole purpose it seemed was to destroy the lives of people whom he himself judged as wrong. Even if just questionably wrong or just innocently misinformed, no one deserves such caustic and unrelenting poison as Kal continually delivered publicly in books, lectures, media and articles. I sense that Kal has nothing of value for anyone, unfortunately, mostly himself.

For Billy Meier, I would apologize for any harm done in my younger ignorance. And, also thank him for his and his celestial friends, hopeful and positive materials, while if either true or imagined, is still worthy of deep consideration at the very least. It is also, the material we are given, to imagine as true, so we can make it real, even if we are told it is not. For until those who would attempt to squelch such beauty can show us something more, filled with more hope and such good for this life's dimension, I will continue to face to the warmth and the light. Following and believing my heart, and never another's angry words.

Godman and champion trickster, the man who calls himself Sathya Sai Baba (SSB), turns 80 today. Already MSM like Deccan Herald is writing glowing tributes to the man who has courted controversies all his life as a holy man. From using sleight of hand to showbiz, he has done everything in between to make a huge following all throughout the world and particularly in South India. Politicians used his clout to their maximum advantage that SSB actively encouraged. Though he managed to do benevolent work for the public in a few parts of the country like bringing water in many villages and opening of charity hospitals for the poor, his sins far outweigh them. Not only had he used a common organ grinder's 'magic' tricks to show (and convince) people that he had divine powers; serious criminal allegations had been made against him.

THE CORPSE OF JAGGANATHAM, SHOT THROUGH HIS RIGHT PALM, TWO PLACES IN HIS CHEST AT CLOSE RANGE.

Who can forget the mysterious gunning down of four young boys in his Ashram in Andhra Pradesh who allegedly went to kill him with a knife? Then Murali Manohar Joshi, former HRD Minister who openly snubbed a BBC journalist for questioning why his government was not doing enough to investigate the allegations of one of SSB's devotees from the US that he was sexually abused over a period of time. Mr. Joshi simply said that 'he was a minister of high stature and when he says that SSB is innocent; SSB must be taken as an innocent man'.

There are many reports of sexual exploitation of young men by SSB. None of them were being raised in MSM as it should have been. Naturally, with the lack of public pressure, successive governments who needed SSB for their political gains swept everything against him under the carpet and made sure that the carpet is nailed forever.

SSB is not going to live forever. It would be a big tragedy for the people who were harmed by the man is not brought to justice when he is still capable of facing the law. The public has the right to know the truth about a figure who has influenced the lives of millions of men worldwide. MSM did a pretty abysmal job and is expected to do so in the future. Governments wouldn't intervene to investigate as long as they are benefiting from the man especially when there is no public outcry. BBC broadcasted a documentary about a year back on the dark side of SSB. But that was the only instance when MSM brought out this issue in the open.

It is a total shame, not only for the MSM, but successive governments as well who failed to come up over their petty political gains and initiate a sincere and impartial inquiry into a wide range of issues about the man like allegations of murder, generation of funds for his cult and other financial dealings, charges of pedophilia, using sleight of hand to proclaim himself as god etc, etc.

COVER STORY

Deadly devotion

What made a handful of disciples plot against Satya Sai Baba:

tute of Higher Learning. They used to hold frequent whisper sessions at the Vocational Training Centre and they shared an intense dislike for Radhakrishna, the Baba's personal assistant.

The young Kumar had a close personal relationship with the Baba before Radhakrishna, 45, replaced him in the Baba's affections. Soon enough, Kumar lost his place in the powerful inner circle, which controls access to the Baba and dispenses favours.

Vijay was apparently angry with Radhakrishna for accusing him of embezzling Rs.1 lakh from the Vocational Training Centre. And Jagannathan suspected that Radhakrishna was trying to scuttle his stationery business with Prashanti Nilayam and also the ashram at Whitefield near Bangalore. Mixed up with them somehow was a thin, dark, bespectacled young man called K. Sairam. Son of V. Krishna Murthy, a staunch Sai Baba devotee living in Bangalore, Sairam was an M.Com student of the ashram.

Most of the lights had been switched off by the time Suresh Prabhu reported for guard duty at Prashanti Mandir. Sai Baba, 67, had gone through his evening routine, having given the public darshan and afterwards a private audience to a handful of important devotees in the reception room on the ground floor of the two-storey building. And he had retired to his bedroom, climbing up the wooden stairs, after a simple dinner. The bedroom had just a cot, a picture of Shirdi Sai Baba and a dressing table.

The Baba activated the alarm and then headed for a room at the far end of the hall on the eastern wing, after locking a door connecting the two wings.

Mystery deepening thanks to silence. Satya Sai Baba and they had knives and daggers concealed in their bedding. The assault was mounted around 10 p.m. when the trio walked along the verandah, switched off the remaining lights and rang the doorbell of the reception room.

Inside the room were lecturer Sai Kumar Mahajan, the Baba's cook Vishnu Bhatt, and a student called Anil Baiter. Sairam, perhaps was in the Baba's suite on the first floor, came down and was immediately stabbed to death. Mahajan, too, was killed in the scuffle and Vishnu Bhatt and Paitley lay wounded.

The assailants swiftly bolted the door of the reception room but a young boy in the vicinity who witnessed the stabbing ran behind the room, throwing open the door that led to the verandah. His screams woke up devotees who were sleeping in adjacent

Pall of despair

The bodies of Radhakrishna and Sai Kumar Mahajan were carried in reverence to their resting places, borne high on the shoulders of fellow devotees of Prashanti Nilayam. The body of Jagannathan was buried quietly in Penukonda village. His brother Kodandaram says that he cannot even find the grave.

In Bangalore, V. Krishna Murthy had swung between hope and despair for many hours. When he frantically contacted the hostel authorities at Puttaparthi to find out whether his son Sairam had been killed or not, no one would tell him anything. When he called the police station, he was told that no information could be given to him over the phone; he would have to come there in person.

Krishna Murthy read about his son's death in an evening newspaper in Bangalore half a day after the incident. Jagannathan's family learnt about his death only after the body was buried.

But no one blames the Baba. "This can never affect my relationship with swami," says Krishna Murthy. Suresh Prabhu's aged father has a busy routine in the ashram as ever. And tears in Vineeta's eyes do not dim her devotion to the Baba. She says: "I am eternally his disciple. — MDR.

rooms and they rushed to the spot. Suddenly, the assailants shouted from within the room that they were trying to save the Baba from Kashmiri terrorists who were trying to kidnap him. That was a red-herring thrown to confuse the crowd.

The commotion woke up the Baba, who pressed an alarm button which sent everyone in the complex scurrying out of bed and switched on the floodlights. Anxious students shinnied up the pillars of the building and landed on the first floor. There they saw the Baba heading for a room at the far end of the hall on the eastern wing, after locking a door connecting the two wings.

A police officer pointed to the possibility that Sairam could have chased the killers into the Baba's room but got locked with them and was killed by the police.

Sex Scandal swirls around Sai Baba

Cult News Summary/December 2004

Sai Baba, a controversial Indian "holy man" presides over a spiritual kingdom that includes one of the world's largest ashrams. He claims to have millions of followers.

But the guru, who is approaching 80, has a history of sexual abuse allegations that in recent years has made media headlines around the world.

Former followers of the aging swami reportedly call him "a sexual harasser, a fraud and even a pedophile."

One man says Sai Baba ordered him to drop his pants and allow the guru to massage his penis. He later said, "Sai Baba was my God -- who dares to refuse God? He was free to do whatever he wanted to do with me; he had my trust, my faith, my love and my friendship; he had me in totality."

Despite such revelations and the growing scandal that surrounds Sai Baba he continues to be worshipped at his ashram. Twice a day he parades about and makes appearances to the faithful, entertaining them with what seems like little more than magic tricks.

34 Complement: Gallery of Liars, of Deceivers and many Charlatans which are the real Liars and Self-Deluded Imbecilies Falsifiers of the Truth. ONLY BILLY MEIER IS THE TRUE PROPHET OF NEW AGE!

Sai Baba's so-called "materializations" include making watches and jewelry appear out of "thin air."

At functions his followers rock back and forth with "shining eyes" seemingly in trance-like or hypnotic states. Perhaps in this condition they are prepared to believe almost anything.

The guru holds court within lavishly appointed rooms decorated with gold leaf and hanging chandeliers.

"Sometimes I think the ashram is a madhouse and Swami is the director," said one recently devoted disciple. Does Sai Baba prey upon the psychologically and emotionally vulnerable? "When you don't have problems, you don't go to the ashram," says a disciple.

But there may be casualties amongst the true believers.

A Malaysian woman reportedly had a psychotic breakdown, attacked ashram workers and was taken into police custody. She sat in a holding area almost catatonic, mumbling "darshan, darshan, darshan" repeatedly.

Sai Baba has accumulated substantial influence and prestige within India. That influence includes some prominent leaders such as former Prime Minister P.V. Narasimha Rao. The Times of India reported in 1993 that the guru's followers include "governors, chief ministers, assorted politicians, business tycoons, newspaper magnates, jurists, sportsmen, academics and, yes, even scientists."

His popularity is easy to understand. Sai Baba has built a hospital that offers free services, partly financed by a $20 million donation from Isaac Tigrett, co-founder of the Hard Rock Café. Its pink façade makes it look more like a palace than a hospital. And in the entrance area there are images of Sai Baba.

Sai Baba's charities have reportedly been plagued though by "rumors of chicanery and worse."

Nevertheless Illustrated Weekly of India stated, "God or a fraud, no one doubts the good work done by the Sai organization."

But does the guru use his accumulated good will and "God-man" status to get into people's pants?

The sex abuse claims are strikingly similar and seem to fit the same pattern.

"During my 'private audiences' with Sai Baba, Sai Baba used to touch my private parts and regularly massage my private parts, indicating that this was for spiritual purposes," wrote one former devotee. "He grabbed my head and pushed it into his groin area. He made moaning sounds. As soon as he took the pressure off my head and I lifted my head, Sai Baba lifted his dress and presented me a semi-erect member, telling me that this was my good luck chance, and jostled his hips towards my face," the man said. When the devotee later talked about his sexual encounter he was thrown out of the ashram. "Each time I saw Baba, his hand would gradually make more prominent connections to my groin," said another former follower.

All of the allegations reportedly involved mostly teenage boys and young men in their 20s.

35 Complement: Gallery of Liars, of Deceivers and many Charlatans which are the real Liars and Self-Deluded Imbecilies Falsifiers of the Truth. ONLY BILLY MEIER IS THE TRUE PROPHET OF NEW AGE!

This story is hardly new. In 1970 a book by Tal Brooke titled "Lord of the Air" later renamed "Avatar of Night," told the story of a devoted disciple's disillusionment upon learning of Sai Baba's sexual appetite.

More recently a document called "Findings" accumulated accounts of alleged sexual exploitation and abuse from the guru's former followers.

An excerpt from the document reads, "Whilst still at the ashram, the worst thing for me -- as a mother of sons -- occurred when a young man, a college student, came to our room, to plead with David, 'Please Sir, do something to stop him sexually abusing us&These sons of devotees, unable to bear their untenable position of being unwilling participants in a pedophile situation any longer, yet unable to share this with their parents because they would be disbelieved, placed their trust in David; a trust which had built over his five years as a visiting professor of music to the Sai college."

Since the release of "Findings" the Sai Baba sex scandal has grown and gained momentum.

A California man named Glen Meloy, who spent 26 years as a devotee wanted to launch a class-action lawsuit against the Sai Organization in America. "You've got all these kids who are scared to death to do anything that will do disrespect to their parents, in a room with someone they believe to be the creator of the whole universe. This isn't just any child abuse; this is God himself claiming to do this," Meloy said.

One former Indian ashram volunteer petitioned India's Supreme Court to investigate Sai Baba. "I've spoken to 20 or 30 boys who have been abused, and that's just the tip of the iceberg. There are 14-year-old kids made to live in his room and made to think it's a blessing. In most cases, their parents have been followers for 20 years and are not going to believe them. American citizens have been knowing about this abuse and taking American boys to Puttaparthi and feeding them to him," he said.

UNESCO yanked its co-sponsorship of an education conference in India linked to Sai Baba and stated it was "deeply concerned about widely reported allegations of sexual abuse involving youths and children that have been leveled at the leader of the movement in question, Sathya Sai Baba."

After Conny Larsson, a Swedish actor went public about his coerced sexual relations with the guru; the Sai Organization in Sweden was shut down.

India Today ran a cover story about the scandal, as has England's Daily Telegraph.

Labor MP Tony Colman raised the issue in Parliament.

Former British government minister, Tom Sackville said, "The authorities have done little so far and that is regrettable."

But it seems that the guru's ardent followers can rationalize almost anything.

One such disciple concluded in an essay published on the Internet, "First of all, I believe that Sathya Sai Baba is an Avatar, a full incarnation of God ... any sexual contact Baba has had with devotees -- of whatever kind -- has actually been only a potent blessing, given to awaken the spiritual power within those souls. Who can call that 'wrong'? Surely to call such contact 'molestation' is perversity itself."

A "potent blessing"?

"When he does it, he has a purpose," concludes another still devoted follower.

Other devotees have rejected reports about their guru's sexual abuse completely regardless of how many of his alleged victims come forward to tell their stories.

One said, "I think this is a projection of his devotees' problems. You hear a lot of rumors&but for me it's not important. When you're happy, why doubt it?"

VKD SAYS DORIS EKKER IS DEAD!

Comment from Rayelan:

If ever there was a time that I would celebrate someone dying... this should be it.

Most of our readers have read the long stories of what Doris Ekker... aka Commander Hatonn... did to Russell and VK... I have never told the story of what Doris Ekker and her husband E.J. did to Gunther and me. I still can't tell the story... my anger at her is still white hot and it has been over 12 years since she and her husband betrayed Gunther and me and sold us out to the new world order.

VK called me this morning and told me that Doris was dead. I didn't believe it until I called one of my sources who has contacts in the Philippines. He confirmed that indeed she is dead.

He also confirmed that EJ is wanted here in the United States so he can not return.

Dear EW:

Thank you for your letter. Doris Ekker is now dead. If you know nothing about the Ekkers and the 20 year feud with V.K.Durham, you have 500 Contact papers to read to catch us. Maybe its time for a brief history lesson. It's all about money and power

The Ekkers were in charge of the Phoenix Journal Project over eleven years of rocky road (1987-1998). V.K. Durham was "Grandma Hermann", wife of CIA operative Russell Hermann and co-worker with CIA G.H.W. Bush in the 1980's. V.K. was Navy (Waves) and worked at one time as White House guard, very intelligent and well versed in common law. She found an 1875 Peruvian Gold Certificate in an old Bible she had purchased, face value of $1000. plus accrued interest, now worth trillions.

Bush, Sr. learned of the gold certificate through Russell, who verified its validity, and determined to steal it. Russell was poisoned, died a horrible death at home under care of wife/nurse V.K. Durham. Russell Herman was cloned and under Bush, Sr.'s. direction gave his authority for the Gold Certificate to Rick Martin of the Contact Newspaper staff. Rick Martin immediately turned the fake authority for this supposed wealth over to the Phoenix Institute and President E.J. and Secretary Doris Ekker. Thus, they rushed off to Manila, Philippines in 1998 to begin their new GAIA (Global Alliance Investment Association) project based on this supposed wealth. Thus, Bush, Sr. accomplished his goal of stopping the Phoenix Journal Project.

V.K. Durham had control of this wealth at one time. Hatonn met with her in person to advise her how to use this wealth for goodness, but V.K. with her great ego rejected His wisdom. Thus, he said she would never be wealthy. She lost the Gold Certificate, which is now aboard the Phoenix Command Ship, and her wealth, which is in the World Trust of Violinio Germain.

For years a battle of wills went on between Doris Ekker and "Grandma Hermann" over V.K. helping Contact Newspaper and the Phoenix Journal Project with her wealth. Due to greed and the desire for control on the part of both parties, little financial assistance was ever provided by V.K. to the Ekkers.

The Ekker's GAIA project was based on fraud, for they had no lawful control of the Peruvian Gold Certificate of V.K. Durham. To this day V.K. claims that through Russell Hermann and Rick Martin the Ekkers stole her wealth. Thus, she keeps ranting on the Internet about how evil the Ekkers were, and how she is going to get it back.

Rumormillnews.com is a CIA website and is quite willing to broadcast V.K.'s rantings and propaganda to cause confusion and cover up the Truth. Watcher 51445 is also a CIA stooge. Beware, that V.K. trashes anyone, who disagrees with her or gets in her way. I speak from experience.

The Durham Trust was set up by V.K. for handling her Gold Certificate, when she lawfully held it in her possession. Because V.K. refused to honor the banking window for the transaction of her Gold Certificate, the window closed, and she lost her opportunity to "cash" the certificate.

I see little merit in giving greater historical detail. May this sketch be sufficient to answer your questions.

In Love and Light,

by RUMOR MILL NEWS

In the series of articles entitled the Texas Two Step & The Billionaire Boys' Club, she detailed the ways in which a select group of corporate leaders and politicians tried to create an "insiders' only" club for doing business in the whole of the western world. She has given precise details of the murder of her husband, Colonel Herrman.

She has revealed that the two Ekkers, who were long-time scam artists operating under various corporation or partnership names, created an entire mythology of a "Spaceship Commander" from the Pleiades -- named Hatonn -- who communicated by a special radio frequency that only Doris Ekkers could receive. She has discussed how the creation of the Global Alliance Investment Association and other groups which may use a similar acronym -- GAIA -- are the "financial muscle" behind this cult mythology. She has related to RMN readers how this self-styled channel for the "Hatonn" has also reserved the alias of Germain, as in St. Germain, the Ascended Master who was also a man of noble birth who lived in France prior to their Revolution.

V.K. Durham has provided extensive documentation and made the links to show that the

42 Complement: Gallery of Liars, of Deceivers and many Charlatans which are the real Liars and Self-Deluded Imbecilities Falsifiers of the Truth. ONLY BILLY MEIER IS THE TRUE PROPHET OF NEW AGE!

Ekkers' scams have netted them something in excess of $17 million in gold and that they left behind some $5 million in gold coins, when the skedaddled out of the United States in late 1997. She and others have provided information linking the Ekkers to scams run on elderly U.S. Citizens, like Betty Tuten of Nevada, who lost $402,000 to one of their "investment" plans.

An article published in the Sunday Telegraph of London in 2001 revealed that the Ekkers took a fortune in gold coins from a retired mathematician in Austin, Texas, one Dave Overton, by selling him on the reality of their spaceship commander -- Hatonn. He was a mathematical genius and a notable eccentric, and a Nevada court determined in 1994 that Mr. Overton had been swindled by the Ekkers and George Green, their one-time business agent. After he died, his estate was probated and some of the money they took from him was returned to it. Through it all, these two Ekkers have conducted their business -- which is nothing more than scamming, selling mythologies and dreams of interstellar glory, and falsified gold bonds and instruments -- with the help of a bewildering variety of corporations and partnerships. The Ekkers even founded a church and then used that Church to sue themselves !! Why? It was done in order to get publicity, to create a "victim status," and to keep the readers of their publications "involved", that is to say -- using "Ritual." Throughout it all, they have somehow won and held the allegiance of a variety of people with many talents.

The latest and deadliest scam, based on yet another improbable mythology, is the "secret law" called NESARA or the National Stabilization And Reformation Act, which has been ceaselessly propagated by one who calls herself "the Dove of Oneness". The mythologies of NESARA all revolve around the legitimate losses and the truly tragic swindles of the Savings and Loan crisis of the late 1980s. Hundreds of thousands of farm and ranching families and rural businesses were drawn into the whirlpool of bankruptcy and foreclosures, and from that long-running tragedy was generated a movement which has been called The Farm Claims.

The Dove of Oneness, who claims to receive messages from the Ascended Master St. Germain, has taken many opportunities to link the origin of NESARA as a secret law reforming the whole of the United States' tax code, abolishing the income tax, to then moving the country into a gold standard. Whether this individual knows it or not, the so-called Master is none other than Doris J. Ekker, who has registered the alias of St. Germain.

NESARA is not just a mythology. It is not just a scam designed to build an e-mail list for later use by other confidence men, fraud experts and flim-flam artists. It is an incredibly dangerous and insidious trap, a psychological warfare tactic, designed to ensnare thousands of good and patriotic Americans, and to taint and sully the whole of a group of people who have become known as "the Children of Light."

This message arrived just two days ago, while the Rumor Mill Forum was still down, and it comes from an impeccable source:

"E.J. Ekker has been a Navy intelligence asset for almost 30 years."

Talk about turning on the lights. The plan is to destroy the Children of Light, before they ever see one dollar of prosperity from any program or any fund of any kind.

Talk about selling out the Children of Light, for the benefit of the Dark Agenda, as Dove calls it. The question immediately redounds -- how can a man who is a Naval Intelligence asset operate in the clear, as a scam artist, working both traditional forms of confidence and creating an entire "spaceship mythology" with a virulently anti-Israel and anti-Federal Reserve System bias, continue to enjoy his success while in exile? Why does E.J. Ekker seem to have complete and absolute immunity, even as he and Doris J. Ekker float their false instruments to leverage gold and funnel monies to the Al Qaeda network of terrorist groups ?? Which side are they on ??

The answer is shocking and shockingly obvious: The Ekkers are on both sides. They are Triple Agents, the most skilled and skilful operatives ever known, and they have very nearly succeeded in selling their entire NESARA ~ Farm Claims ~ Prosperity Programs mythology to a monster-sized audience. But why ?? Why pull a Triple Cross on the people of the United States and Canada, and all the others who have put money into prosperity programs like the

43 Complement: Gallery of Liars, of Deceivers and many Charlatans which are the real Liars and Self-Deluded Imbeciles Falsifiers of the Truth. ONLY BILLY MEIER IS THE TRUE PROPHET OF NEW AGE!

Bergavine, the SBC, the Treasurygate and the mighty Omega ?? What is the purpose ??

DISSIDENT LISTS, FINANCIAL CRIMES AND THE AL QAEDA

Enter another piece of the puzzle, courtesy of V.K. Durham. In questioning her about the creation and evolution of these prosperity programs, and the Farm Claims, certain facts came to light. Colonel Russell Herrman and V.K. Durham first heard of the Farm Claims in 1993, when they were contacted by Rick Martin who was inquiring about the supposed participation of Cosmos Seafood Energy in providing the funding for this redress of grievances.

The problem was made clear at that time: V.K. and Colonel Herrman, the CEO, had suspended the operations of their Cosmos Seafood Energy corporation in April of 1992, precisely because there had been so many look-alike and sound-alike groups registered in Nevada !! After several inquiries by different persons, it was made clear to all that the true Cosmos Seafood Energy and the true signatory of the Bonus Contract 3392-181 were not involved with the Farm Claims and had not started them.

Over the next few years, the constant stress and struggle between the powers that be in Washington, D.C., and the people of the western States, and especially in the northern midwest, grew more acute. The massacre of Branch Davidians at Waco was not in any way helpful. The passage of the Brady Bill with its draconian structure for making gun ownership a trap for criminal penalties, further alienated the rural population. And after the disastrous Tesla weapon strike on the Murrah Building in Oklahoma City, the Clinton administration tried to paint all right-wing talk show hosts and their listeners as being "the enemy." It had the opposite effect. More and more people began to ask about the Savings And Loan crisis, more and more people began to read about the militia movement, more and more people began to feel that everything about the federal government was corrupt and crooked.

V.K. Durham helps to connect the dots. In asking about the Bergavine and the Omega and the Farm Claims, she remembered seeing some important documents. Created for President Bill Clinton -- with the connivance of Senator Arlen Specter of Pennsylvania -- the participants in the Farm Claims and the various prosperity programs were all put on dissident lists. This is the infamous "watch" list assembled by Janet Reno and her minions in the wake of the Oklahoma City fiasco and cover-up.

The people who are most closely associated with the Omega and the Bergavine have been identified as being "potentials" for domestic terrorism. Never mind that the threat of terror activity has been -- for over a year -- centered on the Al Qaeda and their supposed network of training camps in the ruined landscape of Afghanistan.

The events of the last six months, and the micro-nuclear blast which destroyed that nightclub in Bali, on the island of Java, shows clearly that the hub of the Al Qaeda operation is in southeast Asia and the islands of Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines !! And where are the Ekkers now ensconced, where is their headquarters ?? In the P.I. at Makati City, where they have actively supported the Moro insurgencies and other Muslim fundamentalists !! The linch-pin for understanding this triple cross and the devilish planning it has required is the fact, proven in an almost constant stream of propaganda and messaging over the last nine months, that the purpose of the Dove of Oneness has been to build her list. Build the list ! Build the list ! Why ?

More than 300,000 people are said to be registered participants in the Bergavine, the SBC, the Omega and other prosperity programs. They have been anxiously awaiting news of the funding of these programs for years, some for more than ten years.

The key to understanding the motives of the Dove is to know that the Ekkers are now irretrievably tied to the Al Qaeda terrorist, and Muslim fundamentalist movements, by their actions and by their false deeds of assignment. They have floated trillions of dollars in phony financial instruments, with the Bank of China, with the Saudi bankers, and with Islamic banking groups in Malaysia and Indonesia. The Ekkers are providing the intelligence which "the Dove" has been using to build her lists.

44 Complement: Gallery of Liars, of Deceivers and many Charlatans which are the real Liars and Self-Deluded Imbeciles Falsifiers of the Truth. ONLY BILLY MEIER IS THE TRUE PROPHET OF NEW AGE!

TRIPLE CROSS, TRIPLE THREAT, TRIPLE PLAY

The impeccable source also informs Rumor Mill News that E.J. Ekker was one of the most brilliant operatives ever to appear in the world of "cloak and daggers." When connecting the dots, it now appears clear, very clear, that he is a Triple Agent:

 the Ekkers, and E.J. in particular, are Triple Agents and the NESARA mythology is a scam, but more than that, it is a Triple Cross

1. The first purpose of Faction 2 has been, we are told, to bankrupt and destroy the Federal Reserve System, which is the private banking cartel and the oppressor holding sway over these United States (and Canada, too). What E.J. Ekker was conniving to do, was to bring in those gold-backed bonds and gold certificates and to bring the cash that the phony Deeds of Assignment were used to create, to whack the Fed Res Sys into pieces. No doubt some of what Ekker has assembled in the portfolio of GAIA is legitimate. But most of it is a forgery.

2. The Faction opposing the New World Order has been linked to Naval Intelligence, and to men who are loyal to the Constitution and the organic United States: now it is clear that the Ekkers were tripling-up -- working their bona fides as F-1 agents and representing themselves to Faction 2 as having "defected in place". V.K. Durham confirms that Doris Ekker has often represented herself as "working for a higher authority" than the President !! In reality, the Ekkers have been working for F-1, the Satanic New World Order at a much higher level !!

3. The drive for nine months or more, with the Dove, et al., has been to build the list, build the list, build the list. Clearly, the goal of F-1 was to allow F-2 to use those false Deeds of Assignment, along with many legitimate instruments and other gold assets, to bring those Trillions said to be in the prosperity programs back into play. To do what is right and proper in making "whole" the great tragedy of the farm and ranch foreclosures and the ruined lives that spawned the Farm Claims.

4. Now, to bring these assets into the country as financial instruments convertible into monies, would be a good thing if they were not based on the fraudulent Deeds of Assignment written by the Ekkers and using -- among other things -- their false front Cosmos Seafood Energy groups. But the money is coming in from abroad, that does make it subject to federal oversight, and so what happens next ??

THE EKKERS ARE SACRIFICED

The Bush administration has done what the Clinton administration could not or would not do, which is to establish that the Al Qaeda network of terrorist and fundamentalist groups is a serious threat to the safety of the United States. And that it is specifically a threat to the security of "infrastructure," and that the Al Qaeda has been laundering money in a variety of ways around the world and inside of the United States.

So what comes next ?? The Ekkers will be revealed in the mass (controlled) media as being the Sugar Daddy and the Sugar Momma of the Al Qaeda !! Then, just when the Trillions of dollars which the Ekkers have ginned up by selling falsified gold instruments, actually move into position and the program recipients are given access ??

Then -- the Children of Light would be tarred with the brush of having taken money directly from the Al Qaeda Headquarters in Manila, and by way of Islamic banking operations which are holding debentures !! The Federal Reserve System would be tasked to seek out and seize or freeze all of these funds (thus, sacrificing the Ekkers), and federal law enforcement and Anti-Terrorist units would then proceed to use the Dove list !! They would then seek out and arrest the most prominent supporters of these legitimate Farm Claims, thus destroying the nucleus of a true political opposition by decapitating and ruining its most ardent advocates.

The gravity of the situation cannot be underestimated !! Whereas it is not practical to arrest 300,000 + people around the world in one or two day's time, it is not actually necessary to do that at all !! The purpose is to take down the Farm Claims activists, not to take the properties they have already lost, but to turn them into confessed criminals or indicted co-conspirators !!

The people on the Dove list would be arrested for "financial terrorism" as soon as they got their monies in their accounts, and sought to access. Meanwhile the Children of Light would either be sullied and made pariahs, or set up for indictments, too. The monies -- all of the Trillions -- would then be seized or frozen or sequestered, and the Fed Res Sys would be made liquid again by keeping all those assets in place in their member banks. We know from experience that it takes years to get seized assets back, the legal costs are immense, and what assets are the Farm Claimants going to have to use ?? None.

V.K. Durham estimates that the liabilities for bad paper and bad derivatives investments, accruing to the Federal Reserve System are at or in excess of $31 Trillion dollars. Then, consider that the total said to be moving into the Omega, Bergavine, Farm Claims and other related programs is in excess of $37 Trillion dollars USDA. That leaves a nice "skim" of some $5 to 6 Trillion in gold-backed monies for the use of those who are on "the inside" with this brilliant Triple Cross.

It is a Triple Play, in the parlance of baseball, and every runner is put out, and all the bases are cleared. The impeccable source reporting to Rumor Mill News said this about E.J. Ekker, as a spy, a confidence man, a planner -- "... his skills alone are some of the best around and he has always surrounded himself with the best in all fields", and that includes the use of the Internet and computers and tracking.

The Ekkers are operating the Dove as an asset, even if she doesn't know it: she and her crew are a GAIA cell. So, too, is Patrick Bellringer. So ?? So, it does matter, in life and death terms, it does matter !!

The Dove's legion of followers would suddenly be faced with doing hard time, once they did get their monies; and their defense would be the illusory NESARA law, which nobody has ever seen in print. Furthermore, the Children of Light would be both disenfranchised and "targetted" as supporters or co-operators with the Al Qaeda, and the now-bankrupt Fed Res Sys would be given new life -- albeit a new life based on the fraudulent Deeds of Assignment, debentures and other instruments faked up and phoned up by the Ekkers and their crew -- but a life that they could easily continue to live and enjoy !!!

Triple Threat. Triple Cross. Triple Play.

If you are on the Dove's list -- YOU ARE IT, and YOU ARE OUT.

Something Called NESARA - Truth or Fraud?

07/20/03 by Mitch Battros (ECTV)

Time to address this thing running around the internet which shouts "follow me...follow me" as if they have some secret mystical knowledge the rest of us need to understand. It is called NESARA which stands for National Economic Security And Reformation Act. Gee, sure sounds like an official and powerful name. Surely, there has to be something to it.

Well not so fast! It didn't take long after just a short time of research to find this organization is nothing more than a self-proclaimed spiritual group which would like to see our world change. They see themselves as the "Robinhood" of the new age movement. After just a little digging, I am finding they are more along the line of "hood" rather than the robin.

They go by the name "Dove of Oneness". Now how cute and spiritual is that. Gives one the feeling of warmth all over. Well it appears our soothe sayers are nothing less than con-artist. Their names are E.J. Ekker and Doris J. Ekker. It seems the Ekker's are quite popular with US and Canadian Law Enforcement.

46 Complement: Gallery of Liars, of Deceivers and many Charlatans which are the real Liars and Self-Deluded Imbecilies Falsifiers of the Truth. ONLY BILLY MEIER IS THE TRUE PROPHET OF NEW AGE!

The mythologies of NESARA all revolve around the legitimate losses and the truly tragic swindles of the Savings and Loan crisis of the late 1980s. Hundreds of thousands of farm and ranching families and rural businesses were drawn into the whirlpool of bankruptcy and foreclosures, and from that long-running tragedy was generated a movement which has been called The Farm Claims.

The Dove of Oneness, who claims to receive messages from the Ascended Master St. Germain, has taken many opportunities to link the origin of NESARA as a secret law reforming the whole of the United States' tax code, abolishing the income tax, to then moving the country into a gold standard. These so-called Masters are none other than E.J. and Doris J. Ekker, who has registered the alias of St. Germain.

Folks, what really burns me up about people such as these clowns, is the fact they "intentionally" prey on honest seekers who are looking to better themselves and the planet. I can't imagine what their karma has in store for them. Perhaps there is an unknown gift through such evil deception. Perhaps we can use this as a lesson to show the danger in carelessly giving our power away to those who proclaim secret mystical powers or knowingness. It just sickens me to see pathetic individuals use beautiful entities such as St. Germain, Jesus, Buddha, and yes, even Mohammed in such a manipulative and self-seeking manner. I can tell you it is hard for me to use a word like 'evil', but this was the first word which came to mind.

Here is an open invitation If someone from the "Dove" organization would like to come on the show and tell their side of the story, I will be willing to facilitate an interview. I promise I will not contact law enforcement authorities as to set you up in a trap. But you wouldn't have anything to worry about, or so I would assume, since you have accepted my offer. If I find I am the one who has been mis-led, I will apologize "live" on the air. I will even go further, and promote you on my site. Or, if you wish to use this opportunity to confess your sins and ask forgiveness, I would be willing to facilitate this as well.

Now before you attempt to use that old 'bait and switch' routine telling everyone I am a secret agent for the US government, sent out to discredit or trap you, let me say right now it has been documented such scamming con-artist(s) have used this song and dance on many occasions. So I expect to see this used again. Oh yes, I am fully aware I will be attacked for my strong statments. I guess somethings are simply worth fighting for.

For all of you reading this article, I would encourage you not to offer one single penny to this organization until you are absolutely satisfied of their integrity. Oh don't worry, you will have several more chances to use your gift of "discernment". As stated previously, we are in a time when many will be coming forward yelling "follow me...follow me".

A reminder to us all. Do not follow my truth, or anyone else. Follow "your truth". Seek and you shall find. Find What? Your Truth! Sharpen your gift of discernment, you will surely need it. ?
